Best-selling Australian storyteller to visit Corryong

Nicole Alexander, best-selling author and fourth-generation grazier, will visit the Elyne Mitchell Public Library in Corryong on 12 November as part of the tour to celebrate the launch of her new book, The Great Plains.

Named 'the NSW Barwon Woman of the Year' in 2012, Nicole Alexander has been recognised for both her literary talent and for providing a strong female role model for rural professionals. Members of the community will be able to meet Nicole and hear her talk about her new book, The Great Plains.

Library staff member, Shirley Forrest, said that it was a great opportunity to have a best-selling Australian author visit Corryong.

"Nicole's novels resonate with our local readers because of their rural Australian backdrop, so we were thrilled when the Corryong Library was included as a stop in her upcoming book tour", said Shirley.

The Friends of the Corryong Library have sponsored this free community event. The event will commence at 7pm on Wednesday 12 November 2014 and will include supper. Nicole Alexander will have books available on the evening for purchase.

Bookings can be made in person at the Corryong Library or by phone on 02 6076 2160.
