

Two Upper Murray students receive healthy boost to their career

Two students from the Upper Murray are the beneficiaries of this year's Rural Health Career Scholarship offered through a partnership between Upper Murray Health and Community Services and Towong Shire Council.

The scholarship will provide some financial assistance to Ms Sarah Penman and Ms Ailish Learmonth who will commence tertiary studies this year in order to pursue careers in the health sector.

"We are delighted to be able to support these two very worthy local students and their families in partnership with Upper Murray Health and Community Services," said Cr David Wortmann, Towong Shire Council Mayor. "Providing much-needed practical assistance can make all the difference to rural students and we hope to see them return to the Upper Murray to pursue their career".

Upper Murray Health and Community Services Chair, Mrs Sue Sullivan, said the two students deserved their share of the 2016 Rural Health Career Scholarship.

"We were very pleased with the quality applications from local students committed to a career in health," said Mrs Sullivan.
